

HOW TO ARRIVE TO CÁCERES FROM MADRID

Cáceres is the capital of Cáceres province, in the autonomous community of Extremadura, Spain. As of 2013, its population was of more than 96,000 inhabitants. The walled city is declared a World Heritage City.

How to use the metro (underground) in Madrid directly from the Barajas airport. It will take you to both the train or the bus station to get to Cáceres.

<http://www.metromadrid.es/en/index.html>

From Madrid by train

The train from Cáceres to Madrid takes about 3h30 and costs about 50 euros (return)

You can check schedules on www.renfe.es. You can get the ticket on line, but probably the best option is to book in person at the train station.

From Madrid by bus

There are regular buses throughout the day between Madrid and Cáceres. The journey takes around 4 hours and costs about 20 euros each way. Round trip is cheaper. Tickets can only be bought online from www.avanzabus.com. Alternatively, buy your tickets in person at the bus station.

The bus station you need to get from Madrid to Cáceres is Mendez Alvaro. Read more about Bus and Train Stations in Madrid.

From Madrid by car

Travelling mainly by the A-5 highway, the 300km trip from Madrid to Cáceres takes about 3h30.

By plane

Cáceres does not have an airport. The region of Extremadura has an Airport (Talavera la Real) located in the province of Badajoz, just 110 km by car (A-66 + A-5). So, it is now worthy to travel by plane from Madrid to Talavera and then rent a car to Cáceres.

Once you arrive at Cáceres bus or train station:

- Take a taxi to go to the hotel. It will cost around 6 €.
- Walk to the hotel. It will take 40 minutes from both bus and train station.