

LiMe is a Key Activity 2 Languages Multilateral Project, financially supported by the Lifelong Learning Programme.

LiMe aims to help develop language and cultural competences by providing migrants and language trainers with interactive tools to decode language and culture as portrayed in the various types of media we come into contact with on an almost daily basis.

Languages in Media

During the last 6 months, the project team have been developing resources that will meet the aims of the project.

We would like to invite you to trial some of these resources and share your feedback with the project team.

We will be hosting an information session on Thursday 28th November at TLC College in Wolverhampton, with a complimentary lunch.

The event opens at 12 noon with sandwiches and refreshments, followed by a project brief and resources trial from 1 – 3.30pm, led by Angela Molinari from the University of Wolverhampton.

To register please email J.AsbertBalart@wlv.ac.uk with your name and organisation (where appropriate).

The event is free to attend but places are limited so please do register your place in order to obtain full location details and an agenda.
